

Jürgen Bruns (short biography)

Jürgen Bruns is artistic director and chief conductor of the Kammersymphonie Berlin. Since 2019 he is also chief conductor and music director of the Prussian Chamber Orchestra (Preussisches Kammerorchester).

After several years as chief conductor of the KOS Ljubljana and his comprehensive preoccupation with contemporary music, he has become a sought-after conductor throughout Europe and Asia. His concerts are constantly being broadcast on air, over the past ten years there have been more than 40 live broadcasts and audio portraits.

Jürgen Bruns has a miscellaneous discography. Being a German conductor, however, he considers his recordings of works by composers who were once ostracized, of expressionism and of the classical modern era to be particularly heartfelt. Meanwhile, almost 30 CDs have been released.

The concert formats and programs chosen by Jürgen Bruns endow the listener with a special, new and illuminative listening experience.
